From 'I can't' to 'yes you can'!

Hi! My name is Elia and I work as the teacher in El Camino boy's home. It has been eight years of working in the home and I feel very happy, because God is using me as an instrument to restore lives and that gives me joy in my heart.

Teaching to read and write or simply encouraging a boy to do his homework is complicated be-

Dreams for the future, prayer and gratitude

Pray that God provides all the needs for the classroom. I dream of a complete library, a photocopier and book binder. Now that the income has gone down and we have many needs for photocopies and we spend a lot on cop-cause many are not motivated to study.

Some have been damaged and hurt by their parents or teachers. Most of the boys have been scarred and they have the words "I can't" engraved on their minds. An important part of my work is to motivate them with 'yes, you can' and that takes lots of time and effort.

ies. I ask for your prayers for me and for my family that the Lord gives me all I need to help my children in their studies.

I thank you for your prayers and your giving. You are an essential part of this ministry!

Warm greetings from Elia Soliz

I have many wonderful experiences with each boy and would like to share one of them with you.

Luis Enrique, a boy of 13, who arrived 8 months ago, hyperactive, a complicated character, without any desire to study and not knowing how to read or write.

After a lot of work with him, we are seeing a real change of attitude and motivation. He now knows how to read and write although not always correctly yet.

I ask for your prayers for him, that he will keep on track so that he can be a good student in the future.
